Two Easement Grants Take Joshua's Trust Over 4,000-Acre Mark

Joshua's Trust acquired its first property just four decades ago. Today, more than 4,000 acres of lush open fields, pristine woodlands, tranquil waterways, and the only stone mill of its kind in Connecticut, remain under its watchful eye.

Countless hikers, birders, and those simply seeking the solitude and peace that nature affords have visited these special places in the Quiet Corner, which the Trust protects by either direct ownership or conservation easement.

Two recent easements, including 13 acres on Bedlam Road in Chaplin, given by Robert and Pat Dubos, and 70 acres on Kick Hill Road in Lebanon, given by Richard Schleicher, brought Joshua's Trust over the 4,000 acre mark.

A reception to honor Schleicher and an earlier easement donor in Lebanon, Lance Mangnuson, will be held on

Pat and Robert Dubos sign off on their easement donation.

March 27, 1:30 – 3:00 p.m. at the Lebanon Historical Society.

Joshua's Trust members are invited; if you wish to attend, please leave a message at 860-429-9023.

Wildflower Expert Will Address Dinner Guests At The Trust's Annual Dinner Meeting April 13

Dr. Elizabeth Farnsworth, author, illustrator, editor, and Senior Research Ecologist at the New England Wild Flower Society, will be the featured speaker at this year's annual meeting, April 13 at the ever-popular Hole-in-the-Wall Gang Camp.

Farnsworth is the principal investigator for an innovative project, Go-Botany -- an on-line guide to the flora of New England. Her talk will cover plants and habitats that are the focus of conservation efforts in Connecticut. She will highlight hotspots of plant diversity and encourage people to become involved in discovering and monitoring unusual species.

If you haven't yet attended an annual meeting, don't miss this one. It's an opportunity to tour Paul Newman's special camp for children at 5:30 p.m.; to socialize over appetizers at 6 p.m., enjoy a buffet dinner at 6:30 p.m.; and celebrate the Trust's achievements during the past year. We will also applaud recipients of annual awards and elect new trustees. The business portion of the meeting takes place in the dining hall, once attendees have filled their plates, usually around 7 p.m. The wildflower talk will take place in the auditorium starting about 8 p.m.

Cost for the dinner is still just $20 per person. Please use the form on the back page to make your reservation -- and remember, space is limited.

Directions: The camp entrance in Ashford is on Rt. 44, about 2.7 miles east of the junction with Rt. 89 and .5 miles east of the blinking light at Rt. 44 and North Road. A wood arch frames the driveway, and signs will direct you to the dining hall.

A President's Work Is Never Done

I am nearing my last year as Joshua's Trust president and I am starting to wonder how my life will change when my term comes to an end in May.

As president, you become very immersed in all the various facets of a large regional land trust. We are actively working on the acquisition of three to five easements and properties each year.

The stewardship of our 60 properties and 59 easements is a continuous and intensive effort. To support our acquisition and stewardship efforts we also have extensive outreach efforts which include membership drives, fund raising and communication.

Fortunately the Trust has outstanding volunteers to manage and effectively carry out our various activities. The president's major role is to insure the volunteers have the support they need to carry out their work.

To find out if there is life after presidency, I look at my two predecessors, Madge Manfred and Hill Bullard. If you asked them, they probably would tell you that their level of Trust work did not diminish after they left office.

In addition being the prime force behind our outreach work (putting together the newsletter as an example), Madge has taken on the monumental task of getting the Trust ready to apply for Land Trust Alliance Accreditation.

Hill has also continued to be very active in his "retirement," having chaired the Stewardship Committee for a year, and now is very busy heading up a major effort to mark accurate boundaries for all our properties and easements.

I, too, am committed to continue the good work of the Trust after I leave office.

I, therefore, would like to officially inform Allison Burchell-Robinson, our incoming president, that I am more than willing to fulfill whatever role works best for the Trust.

Warren's Word

By Warren Church
Joshua's Trust President

Animal Track Workshop Soon

Joshua's Trust members are invited to a free workshop on "Animal Tracks and Other Wildlife Signs" given by Fran Baranski of Pomfret.

The workshop is scheduled for 10 a.m. Saturday, March 20 at the Trust's schoolhouse. It was initially open only to stewards, but since there are 14 openings remaining, these are now available to JT members. Pre-registration is required.

If you would like to attend, please phone or email Joan Hill (stewardship chairperson) to reserve a space: 860-228-2849 or jhill003@charter.net.

Trails Maps Now Online

Updated trail maps for Trust properties are now available for download from our website.

They cover several new trails (Couch, Pappenheimer) and re-routes and new color blaze systems on several others.

Visit: www.joshuaslandtrust.org

Gottier Named To Influential Preservation Panel

Roseann Gottier, a former JT board member and currently a member of the Land Acquisition Committee, has been appointed to the Face of Connecticut Committee.

The Face of Connecticut steering committee consists of 12 members from across the state who review and allocate funds for the preservation of the "face" of our state. The funding will be allocated for the preservation of farmland, natural lands, historic structures, responsible growth, and urban lands.

Roseann was recommended for the appointment by State Rep. Bryan Hurlburt, who acknowledged her leadership in advocating for the planning and acquisition of open space in Tolland.

As the founder of Conserving Tolland, Roseann has been instrumental in the passage of bonding issues to purchase open space. She will now play an important role in a key state committee.

Congratulations, Roseann!

National Accreditation Imposes High Standards

Joshua's Tract Conservation and Historic Trust is applying for national accreditation from the Land Trust Accreditation Commission.

The process involves an extensive review of the organization's policies and programs, and invites comments from the public.

Joshua's Trust has been working toward the goal of national accreditation since 2005 when the organization adopted the standards of the Land Trust Alliance. The standards cover the ethical and technical operation of a land trust and are intended to help organizations ensure that they can protect important natural places forever.

Putting all the necessary policies and practices in place has been a huge undertaking, according to Past President Madge Manfred, who chairs the committee in charge of submitting the application. "The process has helped the officers and Board of Trustees focus on areas that needed attention, such as setting aside adequate funds to protect properties that we have promised to preserve," she said.

"As a largely volunteer organization, Joshua's Trust has been challenged to meet professional standards of operation," explained President Warren Church. "We have always had the good will of the community which we serve, but the accreditation process pushed us to look realistically at the future."

To submit a comment, visit www.landtrustaccreditation.org.

The Commission accepts signed, written comments on how Joshua's Trust complies with national quality stan-

The full list of standards can be seen at: www.landtrustaccreditation.org/getting-accredited/2008-indicator-practices.

Comments may be submitted online (see address above) or can be faxed or mailed to the Land Trust Accreditation Commission, Attn: public comments: (fax) 518-587-3183; (mail) 112 Spring Street, Suite 204, Saratoga Springs, NY 12866. Comments should be submitted by May 28, 2010.

Four Trust Preserves Will Serve Students

About 200 middle school students will receive classroom and field training at four Trust preserves.

The program is being run by EastConn and supervised by Dan Mullins, a former member of the Board of Trustees. Students will learn about vernal pool ecology, invasive species identification and control, trail interpretation, and bio-diversity inventory work. The vernal pool work will take place at Bradley-Buchanan and Pond Lot with additional guidance from Juan Sanchez, starting in late March.

Barberry control method test plots will be laid out in mid-March at Knowlton Hill and work there will continue through the following fall.
